KnowFlow Technologies LLC

Sample Human Resources Policies

SAMPLE / FOR TESTING ONLY

This fictional document was created solely for software testing of the KnowFlow document-management and retrieval workflow. It is not legal advice and is not an actual employment policy.

Document Owner	Human Resources
Version	1.0
Effective Date	1 October 2026
Review Date	1 October 2027
Classification	Internal - Sample

1. Purpose and Scope

1.1 Purpose

These policies establish consistent people-management standards for KnowFlow Technologies LLC. They describe the expected working arrangements, leave practices, conduct standards, information-security responsibilities, and basic employee lifecycle processes.

1.2 Scope

Unless a section states otherwise, these sample policies apply to all permanent full-time employees. Contractors, interns, temporary workers, and consultants may be subject to separate contractual terms.

1.3 Policy hierarchy

Where an employment contract, applicable law, or mandatory regulatory requirement provides a higher or different entitlement, that requirement takes precedence. This sample document is not intended to replace legal or contractual obligations.

2. Working Hours and Attendance

2.1 Standard working week

The standard working week is Monday to Friday. Normal working hours are 9:00 AM to 6:00 PM, including a one-hour meal break. Employees are expected to be available during the core collaboration period from 10:00 AM to 4:00 PM.

2.2 Attendance

Employees should notify their line manager as soon as reasonably possible if they will be late or absent. Repeated unexplained absence or persistent lateness may be addressed through the disciplinary process.

2.3 Overtime

Overtime must be approved in advance by the employee's line manager. Employees should not assume that additional hours will automatically result in overtime payment or time off in lieu.

3. Annual Leave

3.1 Entitlement

Full-time employees receive 25 working days of paid annual leave per calendar year. Public holidays are separate from this annual leave entitlement.

3.2 Request process

Annual leave should normally be requested through the HR system at least 10 calendar days before the intended start date. The line manager approves or rejects the request based on business coverage and existing team commitments.

3.3 Carry-forward

Employees may carry forward up to 5 unused annual leave days into the next calendar year. Carried-forward leave should be used by 31 March; unused carried-forward days expire after that date unless HR approves an exception.

3.4 Extended leave

Requests for more than 10 consecutive working days should be submitted at least 30 calendar days in advance wherever practical.

4. Sick Leave and Medical Absence

4.1 Notification

An employee who is unable to work because of illness should notify the line manager before 9:30 AM on the first day of absence, unless an emergency makes this impractical.

4.2 Medical documentation

A medical certificate is required for sick absence lasting more than two consecutive working days. HR may request appropriate supporting documentation for recurring patterns of absence.

4.3 Return to work

Employees should update their manager regarding the expected return date. A return-to-work discussion may be arranged after extended or repeated absence.

5. Remote and Hybrid Working

5.1 Standard arrangement

Eligible employees may work remotely for up to two days per week, subject to line-manager approval and business requirements. Remote working is not an automatic entitlement.

5.2 Availability

Remote employees must remain reachable during core collaboration hours, attend required virtual meetings, and maintain a working environment suitable for confidential business activities.

5.3 Location and equipment

Company information should only be accessed using approved devices and services. Employees must not work with confidential information in a location where unauthorized persons can view or overhear it.

5.4 Exceptions

Managers may temporarily require additional office attendance for onboarding, workshops, incidents, audits, customer needs, or other legitimate business requirements.

6. Probation

6.1 Duration

The standard probation period is six months. Performance, conduct, attendance, and role suitability are reviewed during this period.

6.2 Reviews

Managers should hold an initial objectives discussion and conduct a formal probation review before the end of the probation period. Any extension must be documented by HR and communicated to the employee.

6.3 Confirmation

Successful completion of probation is confirmed in writing by HR. Continued employment beyond the expected review date should not be treated as a substitute for formal confirmation.

7. Code of Conduct

7.1 Professional behavior

Employees are expected to act professionally, respectfully, honestly, and in the legitimate interests of the company. Harassment, discrimination, intimidation, retaliation, and deliberate dishonesty are prohibited.

7.2 Conflicts of interest

Employees must disclose actual or potential conflicts of interest to their manager or HR. Outside employment or business activity must not interfere with company duties or misuse confidential information.

7.3 Gifts and hospitality

Employees must not offer or accept gifts or hospitality that could improperly influence a business decision. Any uncertain situation should be referred to the employee's manager or the appropriate compliance contact.

8. Information Security and Confidentiality

8.1 Confidential information

Employees must protect customer information, employee data, credentials, source code, internal documents, financial information, security information, and other non-public company information.

8.2 Passwords and authentication

Passwords must not be shared. Multi-factor authentication must be used where provided. Suspected credential compromise must be reported immediately.

8.3 Data handling

Confidential files must only be stored in company-approved systems. Employees must not send company documents to personal email accounts or upload them to unapproved cloud-storage or AI services.

8.4 Security incidents

Suspected information-security incidents must be reported to the IT Security team within one hour of discovery. Employees should preserve relevant evidence and avoid independently deleting or altering affected data.

8.5 Confidentiality after employment

Confidentiality obligations continue after an employee leaves the company where required by contract, policy, or applicable law.

9. Business Expenses

9.1 General rule

Business expenses must be reasonable, necessary, and directly related to approved company activity. Employees are responsible for providing accurate supporting records.

9.2 Submission deadline

Expense claims should be submitted within 30 calendar days of the expense date. Claims submitted later may require additional approval.

9.3 Receipts

Receipts or equivalent evidence are required for individual expenses above AED 50. Missing-receipt claims require an explanation and manager approval.

9.4 Approval

Employees may not approve their own expense claims. The line manager is responsible for confirming the business purpose before Finance processes reimbursement.

10. Grievance and Disciplinary Process

10.1 Grievances

Employees are encouraged to raise workplace concerns with their manager or HR. If the concern involves the manager, the employee may approach HR directly. Concerns should be handled as confidentially as reasonably possible.

10.2 Investigation

Where appropriate, HR may arrange a fact-finding review and speak with relevant parties. Employees are expected to cooperate honestly with legitimate investigations.

10.3 Disciplinary action

Depending on seriousness and circumstances, action may include coaching, a written warning, a final written warning, or termination. Serious misconduct may justify escalation without following every earlier stage.

10.4 Appeal

An employee may submit a disciplinary appeal to HR within five working days of receiving the written decision.

11. Onboarding

11.1 Pre-joining requirements

Before starting work, new employees should complete required identity, employment, payroll, confidentiality, and other onboarding documentation.

11.2 Access provisioning

System access must be based on the employee's role and approved by the relevant owner. Access should follow least-privilege principles.

11.3 Mandatory induction

New employees must complete required HR, information-security, privacy, and workplace-conduct induction within their first 10 working days.

12. Offboarding

12.1 Notification

HR coordinates the offboarding process after receiving an approved resignation or termination instruction.

12.2 Access removal

System access should be disabled no later than the employee's effective termination time. Higher-risk access may be removed earlier when authorized by HR and IT Security.

12.3 Company property

Employees must return company devices, access cards, documents, keys, and other property before or on their final working day unless another arrangement is approved.

12.4 Knowledge transfer

Managers should identify required handover activities, including ownership transfer for documents, systems, projects, and operational responsibilities.

13. Policy Ownership and Review

13.1 Owner

Human Resources owns this sample policy document. Information Security owns the technical security standards referenced by the information-security section.

13.2 Review cycle

The document is reviewed at least annually and sooner when material organizational, legal, regulatory, or operational changes require an update.

13.3 Exceptions

Policy exceptions must be documented and approved by the appropriate policy owner. An exception should identify its rationale, scope, duration, risk, and any compensating controls.

13.4 Version control

Version 1.0 is the initial sample release dated 1 October 2026. Superseded versions should be retained or disposed of in accordance with the organization's document-retention requirements.
